As the Geological Report for 1854 and 1855 cannot appear before the adjournment of the Legislature, I have been requested to prepare a synopsis of some of the principal results of the geological survey up to the present time, to set forth the objects to be obtained by its further prosecution, and lay before the members of the Legislature some of the advantages which the Commonwealth of Kentucky must derive from developing its mineral resources, and publishing these to the world in the reports of the geological survey.

A reconnoissance has been made of sixty-three counties, embracing those of the Jackson Par.

Prospects Political.

We have for the first time a majerity in Conorganized in accordance with the views of that payers only. The scheme is to reduce the number majority. It is not surprising, then, that the South should feel the greatest apprehensions of the future. It cannot be disguised that the antislavery sentiment of the North has grown extensively in the last few years, and that the most ultra Eight men are to hold office four years, they elect and violent of Abolitionists are aspirants to respon- all officers, and amongst the rest, the tax collectors if what they threaten is accomplished, the worst fears for the union of these States will be realized; for the South will not respect a union in which she is constantly threatened and insulted. She will not brook the position of an unequal sible positions; and it cannot be disguised that If their collectors can't get enough of their friends She will not brook the position of an unequal partner in the Union of the States.

But after all, are the prospects so much worse than they have been in former times? The great subject of contentien has been our territorial possessions. In 1820 the Congress of the United States refused to admit a Slave State into the Union. That body then undertook to dictate to Missonri what sort of a Constitution she should have on this subject. The present Congress can for the amusement of the country. The repeal of the Missouri compromise was made the occasion of a popular clamer by the Abolitionists; but they would have failed but for the aid of a secret political party, bent on office and nothing else, and pandering to the worst pas sions and prejudices. Miss Webster of Abolitionizing the present Congress was accomplished. Another such game is not likely to be played with such success. The people at home see the result, and will correct the error they committed.

The whole country knows that if the Democratic party had been successfull in the Free States in 1851, no such politician as Banks would have been elected Speaker. Sectionalism would have been been left to gash its teeth and curse the rest of marking as hardefore. But Sam successful:

The ensuing elections will tell another story. The follies of the past will be conthat the river was at its lowest stage; that Row demued and the present aspect of things changed. Indeed, we are confident that the present Congress does not represent the opinion of one-third of the country, and that next Ostober and Novem ber will show it. The members, many of them, hold their seats by majorities in their districts which, since 1854, are more than reversed. They will never succeed again until their sins are forgotten or forgiven. The ship of State has weathered a worse storm than this. Its force is now broken, and we are confident it will leave no wreck behind but the wreck of pestilent isms that cursed the country during their interest. Whilst the elections of the present Congressmen were going on in the North the disciples prints in every contest, and the American flag triumphant. The Democracy were beaten, and beaten by Sam. Great was the chuckling and rejoining. "We did it," shouted the brethren. But how is it new? Late at night they discovered a buck a good way off on the other side of a sheet of water. "Flourish the torch," said the man with the gun, which was done, whilst he fired and the game fell. Off they started to secure the prize. "We have had glorious gun; "We killed a buck? What had you to do trigger, and I killed the buck." They proceeded the habite of the Indians to vote; and there was no the gnn, you took aim, you pulled the trigger, and, by G-d, you killed your neighbor's cow." Our than thirty other Americans.

Two other terms on which we must peremptering insist—the disarming of the eastern coast of the like's See, and the alowing Consuls of the Western Pewers to reside in the Russian ports on its waters—have been only slightly and ambiguously mentioned. Why this is so we do not know; that is the concern of Austria. We are not principal in the negociations, but have employed the mediation of a third power, whose duty it is to see that Russia be brought to an unconditional acceptance of our terms, with all their stipulations, before we even enter into negociation. We do not believe for a moment that these things are likely to offer permanent obstacles to the conclusion of peace, but our readers must remember that sion of peace, but our readers must remember that the announcement is that of an Austrian, not of an English diplomatist, and that he speaks from a point of view not always identical with our own.

Again, what does Russia mean by an unconditional acceptance? We have held an acceptance of her's before, and have some experience how coolly she can dishoner it. Other dispatches from Vienna speak of the terms being accepted as the basis of negociation. Logically, there is no distinction between the two, for the foundations on which a negociation rests, must be accepted unconditionally or they are no foundations at all.

Necessaries of Life.

Flour, Whisky, and Totacco have long been regarded benecessaries of life—but it is a mistake. We can 't buy Flour—that is, Daguerreoty pists cap 't—for it is too dear; the temperance men wont let us drink Whisky, and the Tobacce crop is a failure. What we can 't get it is plain we must do without, and what we cau do without is not a necessary. The provent, then, is a failure had been of HARRIS'S Daguer cotypes—bright sparking, rich, bold, and clear—which we can get and cannot do without—that is a necessary of life. now

Ilis skull is not broken, as it was at first feared. The thaw continues and encourages the hope that the efforts to open the navigation of our harbor will soon be crowned with success.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. Gen. Cass, after the wound in his head was dressed, slept soundly fer some time. This evening the symptoms are all favorable to his recovery, and he is lying much more comfortable. His frame was very much injured by the fall, and the danger is of inflamation, coupled with his advanced age. Were he a voice want there would vanced age. Were he a young man there would be no danger.

I have seen many of Dr. Price's patients afflicted with the Scrotula, both hefore and after they were headed. It is certain this uteres of the most inveterate character seemed to yield readily to his Chronic Specific. I have seen ham certificates in possession of Dr. Price, burning testimony to his entire success.

Bowling Green, Ky. JOS. R. UNDERWOOD.

From Rev. Wm. L. Breckinridge.

A servant girl in my family was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. Nowith tanding she had medical treatment, upon the whole she grew worse, until I feared that she would become totally blind. She was placed under Br. Frice's treatment, and to all appearances a radical cure was performed. For several months past she has seemed to me, as she does now, to be perfectly free from any defect or soreness of the eyes, and to be in perfect health otherwise.

Louisville, Ky. WM. L. BRECKINRIDGE.

(Formerly a member of the Bonch of the Court of Appeals).

I have seen some of Dr. Price's patients. They appeared to have been very much diseased, almost beyond all lopes of recovery. They now seem to be perfectly relieved.

ASHAR GRANIAM. Bowling Green, Ky.

(The American Candidate for Governor).

I have seen several of Dr. Price's patients; amongs others, Mr. S. H. Dickerson, of Mouroe co. At the time I saw him he was discussed from head to foot. The left said of his face and neck was greatly enlarged and swollen. All of the left said of his neck, breast, and wollen. All of the left said of his neck, breast, and right shoulder were a mass of filtry discusses and running sores. As he would work his arms, the air would escape from deep ulcers under his collar bones, causing fithy matter and blood to bubble out. The use of the probe had proved that some of these ulcers extended into the helow of the hody. Mr. Dickerson put limes under hr. Price's treatment, who administered his Chronic-, pecific, and, strange to left, a permanial curves as elected.

Will V. LOVING. Howling dreen, Ky. (The American Candidate for Governor).

From Dr. D. R. Haggard, (President of the Board of Internal Improvement). Within my own knowledge, Pr. Price, who now resides n boulsville, has been signally successful in curing scould. Some of the worst cases that have occurred a Kentucky have been cured by the use of his Chrones Specific. When all hope had field, he was applied to, and his treatment restored them to perfect health. Circe of these cases were cured within a few niles of my residence.
